B.S. SOCIOLOGY

OVERVIEW

Sociology is the study of society and social institutions using a distinctive perspective, called the sociological imagination, which can transcend surface appearances to illuminate the complex social reality underneath. As part of the sociology program, students will develop their sociological imaginations in order to understand how broader social forces can constrain or enhance our lives.

Sociology students graduate with the ability to understand our complex social world, along with the individuals and organizations within. They excel in critical thinking, value cross-cultural perspectives, and have a practical understanding of today's social issues. Sociology students explore many contemporary topics, including:

- · work and the economy
- · the intersections of society and personal identity
- · people's experiences of marginalization and deviance
- · problems of social inequality
- · the processes of social mobilization and how societies change.

Program Level Student Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

- Demonstrate skills and techniques in conducting social science research.
- · Define and apply sociological theory.
- Identify social inequalities in terms of race, ethnicity, class, gender, and sexuality.
- · Demonstrate discipline-appropriate writing ability.

Bachelor of Science - Sociology Program Requirements

Refer to the General Education Core Requirements (https://catalog.tamuct.edu/undergraduate-information/general-education-core-requirements/) page for more information on the CORE REQ coursework. The Field of Study (FOS) courses are listed in the footnotes (if applicable). At least 120 credit hours are required for the degree.
